CAPITAL LOCATION.

The Vest in Wheeling Yesterday—The P. W. & Hy. Subscription Carried.

The election yesterday was probably the quietest ever held in the city. The polls opened at 8 o'clock in the morning and closed at 50 o'clock in the worning. There was but little stir about the polls and no excitement whatever. Each of the contesting points for the Capital location were represented by the unual small army of poll workers, but as a gueral thing but few persons were congregated about the voiling place and the professional "workers" lound time hanging heavily on their hand. A few hack and Capitage were used in gathering you have the polls, but thay were to all appearances but poorly patronized. Occurse there were those who took a dependence of the people. There were some, also, who looked upon the election, and worked hard to get out a fail vote, but a ageneral apathy seemed to specially and took of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election, and worked hard to get out a fail vote, but a ageneral apathy seemed for special with the season of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election and was a concluded to the fash titles upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fashion of a Fifth Ward man, who looked upon the election something after the fa

The returns were received at the Court House by Mr. C. H. Deiters, Clerk of the Board of Commissioners. Charley did not wait for the country precincts, and went off to bed about minight. The returns up to that hour were as follows:

ANUSEMENTS.—What the Coming Season Promises.—The coming amusement season promises to be one of rare attractions, particularly in the theatrical line, and Wheeling is to have the creme de la creme of the talent of the country. The season will begin in September. Among the fine cards Manager Hamilton has already booked for the season are the following: Adala Richmond's Opera Burlesque Company, Lawrence Barrett, the eminent tragedian, the Worrell Sisters' Burlesque Combination, Mr. Joseph Murphy in "Kerry Gow," Mr. F. C. Bangs, the celebrated tragedian, the Hess Opera Company, the Harrigan & Hart Combination, Madame Jananschek, the great tragedienne; Madame Rentz's Female Minstrels, Boucicault's "Shaughrum" combination, under the leadership of R. E. Stevene; Wilson, Barlow, Primose & West's Minstrels; the Fifth Avenue Company in "Our Boarding House," Miss Genevieve Logers in "Matud Muller." sixty per cent of the entire vote of the city. There are various reasons for this At this season of the year a majority of the util men, and many others, are out of the medianing pleasuring, etc. Considering the general apathy which has prevailed in this section over the Capital question the vote polled was pretty fair. As showing the difference between this elction and the last State election, we give below in comparison the vote cast isst October for Governor:

The total number of votes cast in the oity yesterday for Clarksburg was 2,134, for Martinsburg 1,105, for Charleston 194, for subscription 2,335, against sub-cription 952. The vote in the country scription 952. The vote in the country precincts was probably very light, perlaps not aggregating more than 200. A large majority of these votes were in all probability against the proposed purchase of P. W. & Ky, bonds, but not enough to prevent the three-but had been so doubt that the proposition for Ohio county to invest in $50,000 of the Pittsburgh, Wheeling & Kentucky railroad bonds has been carried by the requisite majority.

bonds has been carried by the requisite majority.

As for the vote on the Capital location, the figures given above will show pretty well how the wind blows in this quarter.

The country districts voted also for a County Superintendent. We have only the vote of that portion of Washington district outside of the city limits to present to our readers this morning, viz: County Superintendent — Faris 25, Hedges 6, Maxwell 17, Hancher 10; for President Fulton School Board—B. F. Zoeckler 29, John Zoeckler 28, Commissioner—Roth 25, Hoffman 57, Stein 33; for levy 51, against 5.
